

This house believes the West can never be secure whilst Third World is poor

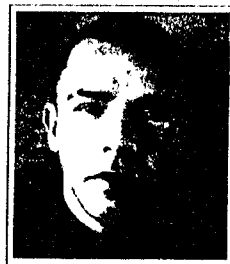

OXFORD UNION DEBATE

Anyone wishing to attend this debate needs to be signed in by a member of the Oxford Union

"Morally it makes no difference whether a person is killed in war or condemned to starve by the indifference of others"

- Willy Brandt

Tuesday 7th May, 8:30
Free Pimm's from 7:45

Dr David Chandler

A research fellow at the Policy Research Institute, Leeds Metropolitan University, and author of, "Human Rights and International Intervention", he has written widely on international relations, democracy and human rights.

Ann Pettifor

Head of the Jubilee Plus programme at the radical think tank, New Economic Foundation. She was previously spokeswoman for Jubilee 2000, an organisation calling for the debt cancellation of 50 of the world's poorest countries.

Kevin Watkins

Senior policy adviser for Oxfam and contributor to the Review of African Political Economy, who has criticised Blair's failure to live up to his rhetorical promises concerning the Third World.

The World Bank

The World Bank will be sending a delegation of representatives to the debate.

Generously sponsored by

PRICEWATERHOUSECOOPERS

Emergency debate starts 7:45pm